CENTRAL MIS PORTAL LAUNCH

JANUARY 7 2026
Nava Kairali Hall,
Annex II
Government Secretariat
Thiruvananthapuram

Launching by

SRI. P PRASAD

Hon'ble Minister of Agriculture

Micro-irrigation ensures efficient use of water resources and enhances crop productivity through precise delivery at the root zone, supporting sustainable agriculture by reducing wastage and improving fertilizer use efficiency. The present manual application process causes delays in verification, increases data entry errors, and limits transparency and timely monitoring of beneficiary requests, affecting scheme implementation. An online application system streamlines registration, verification, and approval processes with accuracy simplifying workflow management and strengthening accountability at all administrative levels. Such portals improve accessibility for farmers and officials, reduce paperwork and processing time, and enable automated reporting and data-driven decision-making for better programme outcomes. The Central MIS portal developed by GGRC is an end-to-end management of micro-irrigation schemes by integrating application, subsidy processing, vendor management, and monitoring functions through a single interface. The online application system is scheduled to be launched by Sri. P. Prasad, Honourable Minister for Agriculture, Kerala on 7th January 2026 at Nava Kairaly Hall, Annex II, Government Secretariat, Thiruvananthapuram.
